

MY BEST BELOVED AND I.
To a little babbling brook,
By the side of which I sit,
When sunset tinged the sky, We spoke of love and constancy,
And in the song that we sang,
But time was naught to me or you,
My best beloved and I.

Another year we met again,
And near the little brook,
But the song was not the same,
And the sunset tinged the sky, Still, youth brought with it a hope,
And a radiant and happy face,
And fondly we spoke of love,
My best beloved and I.

But the little rippling stream, Where first our vows were said, I find my darling down to sleep,
With roses at her head, And yet, we were not parted quite,
For with her we were still one,
She spoke of love and constancy,
My best beloved and I.

Southern Men and Women.
Ex-Gov. Seymour, of New York, one of the purest as well as most distinguished public men in America, has been spending some time in Florida, and has there given his views of Southern men and women, as below detailed, to a correspondent of the Atlanta Sun:

As to the statesmen, the manhood and womanhood of the South in the past, Governor Seymour speaks in high praise, but when Southern statesmen were in power we had a pure and glorious government; but that in their excesses from office corruption and corruption have come in like a flood.
Who would have thought of associating such notorious scandals as have lately disgraced American statesmanship, with the pure and illustrious names of Clay, Calhoun, Hunter, Berrien, Stephens and a host of others which cannot now be recalled? He is fully persuaded that the Southern men who are guilty of such conduct are not the men of the South, and education must elevate the negro if he ever is elevated. Because it is a fact with which the world is familiar, that the highest class of society has always the strongest sympathy for the lowest class. The half educated and half cultivated have these Southern patterns of nobility and nobility which men for a great work of humanity and patriotism. "A little learning is a dangerous thing," the Southern man must not abandon the black man in this crisis of his history, but lead him up in education and civilizing the freedman. By doing this he will still maintain his high character for philanthropy and patriotism, and confer a great blessing on the South.

The Governor eloquently preaches the Southern man to be the highest type and model of womanhood, and the reason he assigns for this is, that they have always had the influence of a weak and ignorant race, and that this dependent domestic charge which Providence gave them, has developed the noblest traits of character and the warmest feelings of philanthropy.
The kind attentions they have given to their servants have lifted them above the cold atmosphere of avarice and feudalism, and made them the most wholesome things are pure, lovely, and of good report. If slavery was an evil, it has bred the best race of men and women the world ever saw.

And in a few years, when this dirty negro, renegade and carpet-bag reign shall have passed away, the mental and moral power of just such men and women will shine out again in full strength and splendor.

Gen. Vaughn, of Mississippi, and the "Patrons of Husbandry." General Vaughn, an honorable gentleman, and during the days when "The Mustering Squadron, and the clat-tering wheels of the war," And while forming in the ranks of war, made a dreadful battle, a gallant and brave soldier, was in our town a few days since, engaged in organizing, and "putting in working order," a organization, known as "The Patrons of Husbandry," which the same commands itself to the favorable consideration of the South and East, and the United States and world generally. The grand object sought to be achieved by this order is the bringing in nearer relations of closer community between the manufacturer and the consumer. You will readily perceive it commends itself by necessity to the wants of the farmer.

The subdivisions of this organization are termed "Granges," there is also a State and national Grange, the merchant and the farmer, as a Grange derives patronage and benefits not extended to the merchant without its circle, and thus in all vocations and professions. The farmer, through this instrumentality, is enabled to purchase his supplies groceries, etc., at wholesale prices, as the same is purchased by "his Grange," thus the Grange becomes a medium of wholesale purchase. The order is of a private nature being possessed of signs, grapes, passwords, etc.—Exchange.

How to Make a Mustard Plaster.
How many people are there who really know how to make a mustard plaster? Not one in a hundred, at the most, perhaps, and yet mustard plasters are used in the family, and physicians prescribe their application, never telling anybody how to make them, for the simple reason that the doctors themselves do not know, as a rule. The ordinary way is to mix the mustard with water, tempering it with a little flour, but such a plaster as that makes a simple abomination. Because it has half done its work it begins to blister the patient, and leaves him finally with a painful, flayed spot, after having produced far less effect in beneficial way than a plaster which will "draw" perfectly but will not produce a blister even upon the skin of an infant, no matter how long it is allowed to remain upon the part. For this we have the word of an old eminent physician, as well as our own experience.

A GERMAN paper contains a reply from a clergyman who was traveling, and who stopped at a hotel much frequented by what are termed "drummers." The host, on being asked by the clergyman at his table, looked at him with surprise; the clerical with his artillery of wit upon him, without eliciting a remark, in self-defense.
The worthy clergyman ate his dinner quietly, apparently without observing the gibes and sneers of his neighbors.
One of them at last, in despair at his forbearance, said to him:
"Well I wonder at you four patients!
Have you not heard all that has been said against you?"
"Oh, yes, but I am used to it. Do you not know who I am?"
"No."
"Well, I will inform you. I am chaplain of a lunatic asylum; such remarks have no effect upon me."

"How low the HEAD—Do reference to the old man once like you.
The wisest of life have silvered his hair and changed the round mercury face to the wan visage before you.
Ours the heart that beat with aspiration, as yours is destined to be. Once that form stalked proudly through the gay scenes of pleasure, the beau ideal of grace; now the hand of time, that withers the flowers of yesterday has lent that figure and destroyed that nobility. Once at your age, you possessed the thousand thoughts that pass through your brain, now wishing to accomplish deeds equal to a "Knight in armor," you are in a dream that the sooner he is awakened from the letter. But he has lived the dream from the very near at hand, his eye never kindled, a lone imagination and the hand takes a firmer grasp of the staff. But how the head, boys, as you stand in your old age be revered."

REAPER & MOWER COMBINED

Is before the world as a standing challenge on the following points:

- 1st. It is pre-eminently a better mower than any other.
- 2nd. It contains better principles, and more of them than any other.
- 3rd. It is a lighter running machine, of its capacity, than any other.
- 4th. It is cheaper, on account of its durability, than any other.
- 5th. It is easier managed by the driver than any other.
- 6th. It is better made in all respects than any other.
- 7th. It has more opposition because of its excellence than any other.

We keep on hand a large lot of repairs for the BUCKEYE MACHINE.

HALL'S
HAIR
RENEWER.
Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY or FADED hair to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and pliant. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair follicles. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger.
In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR-DRESSING ever used, as it requires no further application. It gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."
Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicines.
Price One Dollar.

Buckingham's Dye.
FOR THE WHISKERS.
As a Renewer in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded Whiskers, we have prepared this
